Accredited adoption agencies

Agencies listed on this page are accredited by the Children's Guardian's to provide adoption services in NSW.

- Full accreditation is based on assessment of the agency's indirect (policies and procedures) and direct evidence (practice) and is applicable to agencies seeking to renew their accreditation. Full accreditation is available only to agencies that can show current evidence relating to arrangements for the provision of adoption services for children and young people in NSW.
- Provisional accreditation is based on assessment of indirect evidence (policies and procedures) only. These agencies have not made arrangements for the provision of any adoption services during the 12 months prior to applying for accreditation or accreditation renewal. When provisionally accredited agencies first make arrangements for the provision of adoption services, this is treated as application for full accreditation.
